

Schofield Thanks People of Honolulu For Library Books

General Library, Schofield Barracks, H. T.
July 5, 1917.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
My dear sir: I want to thank you for your generous assistance in making the Schofield General Library more complete. The 500 volumes that have been placed upon the shelves and are now doing active service. I wish that I knew the name of each individual who donated books through you that I might thank them in person. I hope that they will know that the books they have sent the library are of the greatest value to us, that they are being extensively used and that they are greatly appreciated. In particular, I want to assure you in behalf of the men of Schofield Barracks that your efforts in their behalf is genuinely appreciated and I beg that you accept our thanks.
Yours very sincerely,
H. L. WINTER,
Chaplain 1st Inf., Officer in Charge.

MAUI SHERIFF COMES FOR DATA ON REGISTRATION

Members of the Maui board of supervisors held a meeting recently, discussed registration and, as a result, Sheriff Clem Crowell is in Honolulu today, eager to gather all information possible for dissemination on the Valley Island, and has already conferred with Capt. Will Wayne and Francis J. Green of the central board.
The Maui supervisors are spending the county's money to send Sheriff Crowell to Honolulu as they are anxious to do all they can to impress upon the Maui men the fact that they must register on July 31. Sheriff Crowell will spend several days in the city and will take back considerable information, as well as advertising matter relating to registration.
George Rodick, president of the Sugar Planters' Association, has informed the central board that he is sending letters to all plantation managers and lunas urging them to do all in their power to aid the boards in their respective districts in registration work.
It is planned to have the lunas inform each eligible laborer personally of his duty by the registration day. The planters' association is also to furnish the board with a complete list of the names of employees of plantations.
For the time being the central board will concentrate its energies on the other islands, and will cover Oahu with information and posters at a later date.

WILL DISTRIBUTE TOMATO PLANTS

Over 500 tomato plants are to be distributed by the federal experiment station on Saturday morning and, if any are left, they will be given away on the following Wednesday afternoon.
"The United States experiment station at the head of Pensacola street will have for free distribution about 500 hybrid tomato plants," said J. M. Westgate of the station in an announcement this afternoon.
"These are ready to set out. The plants will be distributed free to those who will call or send for them on Saturday morning from 8 to 12. Any number up to 10 will be given to each person as long as they last. Any plants not distributed on Saturday will be available on Wednesday afternoon between 1 and 4 o'clock."

GOSPEL MISSION HOME TAKES NEW QUARTERS

The Gospel Mission Home for unfortunate women and children will move to new quarters in Palolo, where there will be accommodations for 100 persons instead of 75 as previously, according to W. E. Pletsch, who founded the institution and continues as its head.
Nine different nationalities are represented in the women, girls and boys at the home. Miss News Young, assisted by Mrs. Hattie Hakelau, has charge of the girls' department. Cecil Martin of the boys, and a matron for the women is expected to arrive this month.

PERSONALITIES

ALLAN RENTON is booked to arrive on the Manoa next week.
J. P. WINNE of Alexander & Baldwin will return next week from a vacation trip to the Pacific coast.
J. E. HIGGINS, horticulturist of the federal experiment station, has left for California, where he will spend 5 weeks in the study of avocado, and the Hachi, a Chinese fruit that grows in the islands.
MR. AND MRS. H. E. BAILEY, who left here late in May for the Northwest, on the Niagara, will return by the Manoa next week. They have had a pleasant vacation trip down the coast.
MR. AND MRS. FRED L. WALDRON have returned to Seattle from a trip to Alaska, and will shortly begin a motor tour of the Pacific coast.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

A seven and one-half pound baby daughter was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Merle L. Copeland of 2565 Parker street, Manoa.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brown are rejoicing over the arrival of a son born yesterday. They reside in Nuuanu valley.

Deputy Sheriff Asch returned yesterday afternoon from Makapuu point with the report that nothing had yet been seen of the body of C. E. Kellogg, who was drowned the afternoon of July 4.

J. W. McChillis, office secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who rowed with the Heianji Class B crew in the races at Hilo on the Fourth, expects to return to Honolulu on Saturday, according to reports received at the Y.

Manley G. K. Hopkins, new territorial auditor who succeeded J. H. Fisher, announced yesterday that he will make no changes in the personnel of his office staff. The office force is composed of Lawrence K. Lono, John W. Vannatta and Alexander May.

The McKinley High School Alumni association will hold its regular meeting on Friday night at the McKinley high school. Election of new members from the class that just graduated will be held. The meeting begins at 7:30.

Don Ladd, exchange secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of Kaula for two months and who played with the Heianji of the Pacific league while here was catching for the All-Kaula who defeated the All-Students in the game on the Fourth, says E. A. Larimer of the Y. M. C. A.

Because the automobile number plates in the past never got here until after the annual registration period, Sheriff Rose, in a letter to the board of supervisors, suggests that the board take up the question now in order that the successful bidder may get them here by December 1, 1917, and they will then be ready to be issued January 1, 1918.

Mrs. Iowane Kelekalia, who was injured in a row on Kukui street Wednesday afternoon, was treated at the emergency hospital Wednesday night for a cut on the head. According to the police an officer was dispatched to the scene shortly after the disturbance and offered to send for the ambulance, but the offer is said to have been refused. Later, so the police say, the woman sobered up, changed her mind and sent a call to the emergency hospital.

German Serving In Army Inquires If He Is Alien Enemy

Sergeant Comes All Way From Philippines to Ascertain Citizenship Status

Is a first sergeant in the United States Army who was born in Germany and who has not yet taken out his first citizenship papers, an alien enemy? And must he take out his first papers, and wait five years before becoming an American citizen?

These are questions over which Albert E. Harris, clerk of the local United States court, is puzzling.

The sergeant in question called at the clerk's office this morning to see if he could be assisted in his dilemma and he came all the way from the Philippines to get the matter straightened out. There are no naturalization courts in the Philippines.

According to his story, he was born in Germany and came to the United States when 3 years old. He was never naturalized and has not taken out his first papers. He entered the army at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war and has several honorable discharges.

Now he is anxious to become a citizen, and from the circumstances he might be considered an alien enemy. The procedure today is that no alien may enter the army unless he has his first papers; that is, unless he has declared his intention of becoming an American citizen. Clerk Harris says he will ask the federal judges to solve the problem.

SAFFERY BOUND TO GRAND JURY IN $2500 BOND

As the result of a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner George S. Curry, Thomas Saffery, charged with impersonating a federal official, has been bound over to the federal grand jury for investigation and bond has been fixed at $2500.

Saffery, who was arrested by the police, is declared by them to be the ringleader of a gang of blackmailers that made it a practice of halting couples at night in the beach district and demanding sums of money, the threat being that if they did not pay they would be arrested and turned over to the federal authorities.

There will be no more jury trials in circuit court until next September.

RULING CAUSES ACCIDENT BOARD TO CEASE WORK

At 1:40 o'clock this afternoon the industrial accident board, having accepted an opinion from its attorney just previously that they could render no more decisions on industrial accidents pending action on the decision of Circuit Judge C. W. Ashford that the workmen's compensation law is unconstitutional, suspended all but routine operations and adjourned.

A letter requesting the governor for instructions as to further action will be forwarded at once. The board wants to know whether it shall close shop entirely or keep open for routine work. No more decisions can be rendered on accidents now in view of Judge Ashford's recent interpretation of the law.

Miss Anna Nexsen, secretary, was instructed to send circular letters to the various insurance companies stating that the board will be willing to receive reports on accidents if it is desired to send them.

WOMAN SEEKS TO BECOME U. S. CITIZEN

For the first time in nearly a year a woman alien has filed in federal court her declaration of intention to become an American citizen. She is Miss Alice Helen Reid, a native of Forthshire, Scotland, and a bookkeeper by occupation.

Manuel R. Bisho, a pressman in the employ of the Star-Bulletin, and a native of Madeira, Portugal, and Fritz Sohlmann, a native of Hannover, Germany, and an engineer by occupation, have also taken out their first papers.

JAPANESE SCHOOL GIRLS FORM "FIRST AID" CLASS

A class in first aid for the injured was organized this afternoon at the Young Women's Christian Association for Japanese school girls in the later teens. This class is the outgrowth of the citizenship conferences conducted by the educational committee of the association during the past year, and is designed to unite this group of embryo American women with their sisters in the campaign of preparedness for emergencies. Dr. E. N. Young, who has recently come to Honolulu from Maui, will teach the class.

LAND DRAWING PLOT SCENTED

to solve is how the 37 or more letters got out of the postoffice, all bearing the stamp of July 2, when Engle himself had cleared the box on the morning of the drawing.

He also wanted to know this morning why Van Gieson, not an employee of the land office, gained possession of the letters.

Three Stories Told
Three decidedly conflicting stories are told—one by Henry Peters, a clerk in the land office; another by Van Gieson, and the third by Representative James K. Lota of Hanalei, Kauai.

Henry Peters declares that on Monday afternoon, July 2, Representative Lota handed him a bundle of letters. He also declares that on the same afternoon Van Gieson gave him a number of letters at the clerk's office. If Peters' statements are true, says Engle, by what authority did Lota and Van Gieson get the letters from the postoffice?

When questioned this morning by Engle, in the presence of a Star-Bulletin reporter, Lota flatly denied that he had given any letters to Peters, and declared he knew nothing about the affair.

Lota alleges, however, that during a preliminary investigation that was being conducted by Engle in the land office, Peters came to him and asked him to say that he, Lota, had given him some letters. This, Lota asserts, he declined to do.

Van Gieson admits that he presented the bundle of letters at the land office, but denies that he ever gave any letters to Henry Peters. He said he was sitting in the clerk's office of the house of representatives talking with Nicholas Hoopli, former employee of the postoffice, when Peters came to the door and called Hoopli outside.

Then, he declares, Hoopli asked Van Gieson to take a bundle of letters and hand them in at the land office, which he says he did. Shortly before the close of the legislature Hoopli said he was going to quit the postoffice and go into small farming on Kauai.

The theory advanced by Engle is that a plan had been laid by a hui to get the 37 or more letters into the box just before it was closed with the belief that the last letters in the box would be the first to come out when the drawing was held.

The only solution to the problem that Engle thus far has been able to advance is that someone took the letters to the postoffice around midnight on the night of July 2 and had them stamped and passed back to him.

Engle requested the postmaster to make an investigation which, says Engle, resulted in all clerks questioned declaring that the letters must have gone through the land office box.
